

Astro Camp Saturday 2009

October 3 and October 24

Fit to be a Solar Explorer

Do you have what it takes to be an astronaut? Discover the challenges that face our NASA astronauts when they go through their training. Campers will be challenged to physical fitness and research goals, practice physical fitness activities, and research proper nutrition, to enable them to aspire to become our next generation of Solar Explorers!

November 7 and November 14

Courage to Soar - Aeronautics 101

Come discover the courage to soar! Through hands-on activities that help the campers explore the forces of flight so they can develop the skills needed to create their own aviation models. Discover the challenges that first aviation explores encountered and follow the path that has help us find the courage to soar to the stars.
